

Globally, an estimated 736 million women—almost one in three—have been subjected to physical and/or sexual intimate partner violence, non-partner sexual violence, or both at least once in their life (30 per cent of women aged 15 and older). This figure does not include sexual harassment. The rates of depression, anxiety disorders, unplanned

El número de mujeres víctimas de violencia de género aumentó un 8,3% en el año 2022, hasta 32.644. La tasa de víctimas de violencia de género fue de 1,5 por cada 1.000 mujeres de 14 y más años. El número de víctimas de violencia doméstica disminuyó un 1,1%.

- Less than 40 per cent of the women who experience violence seek help of any sort. In the majority of countries with available data on this issue, among women who do seek help, most look to family and friends and very few look to formal institutions, such as police and health services. Fewer than 10 per cent of those seeking help reported to the police [11].
- Fifteen million adolescent girls worldwide, aged 15–19 years, have experienced forced sex. In the vast majority of countries, adolescent girls are most at risk of forced sex (forced sexual intercourse or other sexual acts) by a current or former husband, partner, or boyfriend. Based on data from 30 countries, only 1 per cent have ever sought professional help [19].

1 out of every 2 women (57.3%) living in Spain aged 16 or over have suffered violence during their lives because they are women. They account for 11,688,411 women.

In 2021, 720 women were murdered by an intimate partner, family member or relative in 17 EU Member States, according to official reports.
